

12 Days of Christmas

FOR HUSBANDS

DAY 1: Jingle All The Way

When you talk to your wife on the phone today, talk as if you are still trying to win her over. Flirt and listen.

DAY 2: A Christmas Story

Before today is over, ask your wife to tell you about her favorite Christmas memory.

DAY 3: Elf Yourself

At some point today, ask her: "If you had an elf for an entire day, what would you ask him to do for you?" Then, do at least one thing on her elf list.

DAY 4: Scrooged

Try not to say one negative thing to your wife today. Posture yourself to say yes to her instead of no. Tell her one thing you love about her.

DAY 5: Silent Night

The time when couples come back together at the end of the day is when most arguments occur. When you reconnect tonight, hug her tight for 30 seconds.

DAY 6: Holly Jolly Christmas

Do whatever it takes to make your wife laugh at least once today.

DAY 7: Simply Having A Wonderful Christmas Time

Give your wife an hour or so by herself today, or, if she prefers, an hour of quality time with you.

DAY 8: You Hear What I Hear?

With your wife in earshot, tell someone "something" you love about her.

DAY 9: A Gift From Your Folks

Tell your wife one thing you love about someone in her extended family.

DAY 10: Letter From Santa

Buy your wife a Christmas card and leave it on her pillow so she sees it at bedtime.

DAY 11: Twas The Night Before Christmas

Bring your wife a small gift—her favorite warm drink, candy, or a flower.

DAY 12: Under The Mistletoe

Make sure you lovingly look at and touch your wife at least a dozen times today.

12 Days of Christmas

FOR WIVES

DAY 1: Holly Jolly Christmas

Do whatever it takes to make your man laugh at least once today.

DAY 2: Santa Baby

Tonight, tell your man why you still find him irresistible. You could also choose to show him.

DAY 3: Jingle All The Way

When you talk to your man on the phone, talk as if you are still trying to win him over. Flirt and listen.

DAY 4: Elf Yourself

Ask him at some point today: "If you had an elf for an entire day, what would you ask him to do for you?" Then, do at least one thing on his elf list.

DAY 5: Letter From Santa

With a bar of soap, write on his car window or bathroom mirror, "All I want for Christmas is my husband!"

DAY 6: A Gift From Your Folks

Tell your man one thing you love about someone in his extended family.

DAY 7: Super Santa

Ask your husband to do a chore for you as if you were asking Superman to do it. "Honey, could you save me with your super strength and help me with _____?"

DAY 8: Silent Night

The time when couples come back together at the end of the day is when most arguments occur. When you reconnect tonight, greet him in a fun way. A Rudolph nose is always a good choice.

DAY 9: Do You Hear What I Hear?

With your man in earshot, tell someone something you love about him.

DAY 10: Simply Having A Wonderful Christmas Time

Give your man an hour or so by himself today. Or, if he prefers, an hour of quality time with you.

DAY 11: Twas The Night Before Christmas

Bring your man a very small, yet thoughtful gift.

DAY 12: Under The Mistletoe

Make sure you lovingly look at and touch your man at least a dozen times today.
