

Rock It

Women's wedding rings typically have diamonds in them, a.k.a. "rocks." While some "rocks" are more like pebbles, there is one thing true about diamonds: They are ROCK SOLID. ROCK SOLID is also a great description of a great marriage. That's why on this Can't Wait Date, we want you to Rock It.

Get Ready: This is a jeans and T-shirt type of date. Wear shoes you don't mind getting dirty (potentially).

Go Out: For dinner, go to a diner, dive, or "hole in the wall." There's a BONUS if it has a jukebox.

Dare Me: Order for each other and don't tell what you're picking until the server arrives. Answer these questions as you dine.

(If you are not into ROCK music, then talk about the music you enjoy.)

- ★ Who was your ROCK STAR crush growing up?
- ★ If you could meet one ROCK STAR (dead or alive), who would it be?
- ★ What was the first song you can remember buying?
- ★ What was your first concert?
- ★ If you could see anyone in concert, who would it be?

I want to be a ROCK STAR!

(These questions have the potential to rock the boat. Don't let them!)

- ★ How can I be a ROCK STAR when it comes to helping around the house?
- ★ How can I be a ROCK STAR when it comes to our calendar?
- ★ How can I be a ROCK STAR when it comes to money?
- ★ How can I be a ROCK STAR when it comes to our health?
- ★ How can I be a ROCK STAR when it comes to _____?
- ★ How can I be a ROCK STAR when it comes to _____?

Do It: Now it's time to ROCK IT.

Step One: In the next 30 minutes, get one rock for your ROCK IT ceremony. The rock can be as big or small as you like, but you had better like it, because you are going to be looking at it every day. There's a BONUS if you can get the rock from a location that means something to both of you.

(Please Note: While MarriedPeople thinks it would be fun if you have to trespass to get the perfect rock, we are not responsible for any arrests and/or incarcerations due to trespassing.)

Step Two: Don't call us cheesy for what we are about to ask you to do! Your spouse needs to know that you are solid as a rock, that you aren't going anywhere, no how, no way. He/She needs to know that you are going to do what you promised on the day you said, "I do." And now we want you to say, "I still do" in a way that is much cheaper and quicker than your first "I do," but just as important.

Find a makeshift wedding chapel. This could be anywhere as long as it is just the two of you.

Now hold your rock together, and read the following vows:

*This rock will not get richer. This rock will not get poorer.
This rock will not get sicker. This rock will not get healthier.
This rock will not get better. This rock will not get worse.
But this rock is steady and it's not going anywhere, just like me.*

You may now kiss your ROCKING SPOUSE.

Picture It: Take a picture of your spouse with your rock and set the picture as the wallpaper on your phone. Also, don't forget to post it on your church's Facebook page.

Keep It Going: And finally, it is time to ROCK THE HOUSE. Once you're home, put the rock in a location where you will see it daily.
